AN

APPENDIX

T O

JOHN BULL

STILL 1485 1- 3

In His SENSES:

OR,

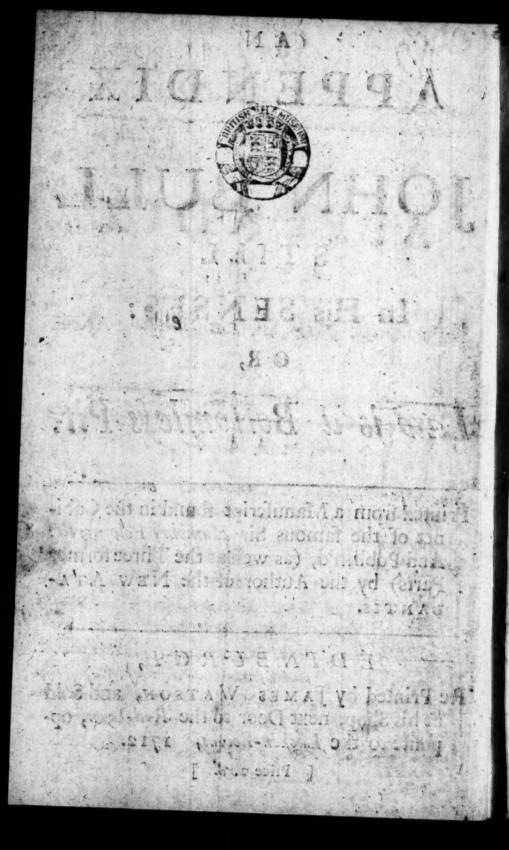

Law is a Bottomless-Pit.

Printed from a Manuscript found in the Cabinet of the famous Sir Humphry Polesworth:
And Publish'd, (as well at the Three former Parts) by the Author of the New ATALANTIS.

EDINBURGH,

Re-Printed by JAMES WATSON, and Sold at his Shop, next Door to the Red-Lyon, opposite to the Lucken-Booths, 1712.

[Price 2. d.]

AN

APPENDIX

TO

John Bull Still in his Senses, &c.

CHAP. I.

The Apprehending, Examination, and Imprisonment of Jack, for Suspicion of Poisoning.

HE attentive Reader cannot have forgot, that in my last Part, the Story of YAN PTSCHIRNSOOKER'S Powder was interrupted by a Message from Frog. I have a natural Compassion for Curiosity, being much troubled with the Distemper my self; therefore to gratify that uneasy itching Sensation in my Reader, I have procured the following Account of that Matter.

A 2

YAN

YAN PTSCHIRNSOOKER came off (as Rogues usually do upon such Occasions) by Peaching his Partern, and being extremely forward to bring him to the Gallows; Jack was accus'd as the Contriver of all the Roguery. And indeed it happen'd unfortunately for the poor Fellow, that he was known to bear a most inveterate Spight against the old Gentlewoman, and confequently, that never any ill Accident happen'd to her, but he was su-spected to be at the Bottom of it. If she prick'd her Finger, Jack, to be sure, laid the Pin in the way: If some Noise in the Street difturb'd her Rest, who could it be but Jack in fome of his nocturnal Rambles? If a Servant run away, Jack had debauch'd him: every idle Tittle-tattle that went about, Jack was always supected for the Author of it; However, all was nothing to this last Affair of the temperating, moderating Powder. The Hue and Cry went after Jack, to apprehend him, dead or alive, whenever he could be found. The Constables look'd out for him in all his usual Haunts; but, to no purpose. Where d'ye think did they find him at last? Ev'n smoaking his Pipe very quietly, at his Brother Martin's; from whence he was carry'd with a vast Mob at his Heels, before the Worshipful Mr. Justice Overdo. Several of his Neighbours made Oath, That of late, the the Prisoner had been observed to lead a very diffolute Life, renouncing ev'n his usual Hypocrify, and Pretences of Sobriety: That he frequented Taverns and Eating-Houses, and had been often guilty of Drunkenness and Gluttony at My Lord-Mayor's Table: That he had been feen in the Company of Lewd Women: That he had transferr'd his usual religious Care of the engross'd Copy of his Father's Will, to Bank Bills, Orders for Tallies, and Debentures: These he now affirm'd, with more literal Truth, to be Meat, Drink, and Cloth, the Philoso- the Tub. * Tale of phers Stone, and the Universal Medicustomary Reverence to the Will, that he kept Company with those that call'd his Father a cheating Rogue, and his Will a Forgery. That he not only fat quietly and heard his Father rail'd at, but often chim'd in with the Discourse, and hugg'd the Authors as his Bosom Friends: † That instead of asking for Blows, at the Tale of Corners of the Streets, he now bestow'd them as plentifully as he begg'd them before: In short, That he was grown a meer Rake; and, had nothing left in him of old Jack, except his Spight to John Bull's Mother.

as

h-

rd

cy.

or

ar

n-

ly

1-

ne

10

et

ck

k

ď

n

Another Witness made Oath, That Jack had been overheard bragging of a Trick he had found out to manage the old formal Jade, as he us'd to call her. 'Damn this numb'd'Skull of mine (quoth he) that I could not light on it sooner. As long as I go in this ragged tatter'd Coat, I am so well known, that I am hunted away from the old Wo-' man's Door by every barking Curr about the House, they bid me Defiance; there's no doing Mischief as an open Enemy, I "must find some Way or another of getting within Doors, and then I shall have better Opportunities of playing my Pranks, be-

' fides the Benefit of good keeping.

Two Witnesses swore, that several Years ago, there came to their Mistris's Door a young Fellow in a tatter'd Coat, that went by the Name of Timothy Trim, whom they did in their Conscience believe to be the very Prisoner, resembling him in Shape, Stature, and the Features of his Countenance; that the said Timothy Trim being taken into the Family, clap'd their Mistris's Livery over his own tatter'd Coat, that the said Timothy was extreamly officious about their Mistris's Person, endeavouring by Flattery and Tale bearing, to set her against the Rest of the Servants, no Body was so ready to fetch any thing that was wanted, or reach what

(7) that was drop'd; that he us'd to shove and bow his Fellow-Servants to get near his Mistress, especially, when Money was a paying or receiving, then he was never out of the way; that he was extremely diligent about every Bodies Bufiness but his own that the faid Timothy while he was in the Family, us'd to be playing Roguish Tricks: when his Mistress'e Back was turn'd he would loll out his Tongue, make Mouths, and laugh at her, walking behind her like a Harlequin, ridiculing her Morions and Gestures; if his Miltress look'd about, he put on a grave, demure Countenance, as he had been in a Fit of Devotion; that he us'd often to trip up Stairs to Smoothly that you could not hear him tread, and put all things out of Order; that he would pinch the Children and Servants, when he met them in the Dark, fo hard, that he left the Print of his Forefingers and his Thumb in black and blue, and then flink into a Corner, as if no Body had done it; Out of the same malicious Design, he us'd to lay Chairs and Joint-stools in their Way, that they might break their Nofes by falling over them. The more young and unexperienc'd, he us'd to teach to talk faucily, and call Names: During his Stay in the Pamily there was much Plate Missing; that be ing catch'd with a couple of Silver Spoons in

fack he ade,

not his

vn,

out e's

ng

ter De-

ers a nt

any

ir V

it o h it

his Pocket, with their Handles wrench'd off. he faid, he was only going to carry them to the Goldsmiths to be mended; that the faid Timothy was hated by all the honest Servants, for his ill-condition'd, fpenetick Tricks, but especially for his flanderous Tongue; traducing them to their Miftress as Drunkards, Thieves and Whore-mafters; that the faid Timothy, by lying Stories us'd to fet all the Family together by the Ears, taking delight to make them fight and quarrel; particularly one Day fitting at Table, he spoke Words to this Effect: I am of Opinion (quoth he) That little fhort Fellows, fuch as we are, have better Hearts, and could beat the tall Fellows: I wish it came to a fair Trial, I believe, these long Fellows, as fightly as they are, should find their Jackets well thwak'd. A Parcel of tall Fellows, who thought themselves affronted by this Discourse, took up the Quarel, and to't they went, the tall Men and the low Men, which continues still a Faction in the Family, to the great Disorder of our Mistress's Affairs: That the said Timothy carried this Frolick fo far, that he propos'd to his Mistress, that she should entertain no Servant that was above four Foot feven Inches high, and for that Perpose had prepar'd a Gage, by which they were to be measur'd: That the good old Gentlewoman, was not fo simple mple as to go into his Projects, she began fmell a Rat. 'This Trim (quoth fhe). is an odd fort of a Fellow, methinks he makes a strange Figure with that ragged, tatter'd Coat, appearing under his Livery, can't he go spruce and clean, like the rest of the Servants? The Fellow has a Roguish Leer with him, which I don't like by any means; besides, he has such a twang in his Discourse, and an ungraceful way of speaking through the Nofe, that one can hardly understand him; I wish the Fellow be not Tainted with fome bad Difeafe. The Witnesses farther made Oath, That the faid Timothy lay out a Nights, and went abroad often at unseasonable Hours; that it was credibly reported, he did Business in another Family; that he pretended to have a fqueamish Stomach, and could not eat at Table with the rest of the Servants, tho' this was but a Pretence to provide some nice Bit for himfelf; that he refus'd to Dine upon Salt-fish, only to have an Opportunity to eat a Calve's Head (his Favourite Dish) in private, that for all his tender Stomach, when he was got by himself, he would devour Capons, Turkeys and Sirloins of Beef, like a Cormorant. Two other Witnesses gave the following Evidence, That in his officious Attendance upon his Mistress, he had try'd to slip in off.

(9)

a to

ints,

but

rds,

Ti-

nily

ake

Day

Ef-

ttle

ter

; I

efe

uld

cel

af-

ia-

nd

on

r-

r, es

a

le

B

2

a Powder into her Drink, and that one he was catch'd endeavouring to stiff her with a Pillow as she was a sleep; that he and PTSCHIRNSOOKER were often in close Conference, and that they us'd to drink together at the Rose, where it seems he was well enough known by the true Name of Fack.

The Prisoner had little to say in his Defence; he endeavour'd to prove himself alibi; so that the Trial turn'd upon this single Question, whether the said Timothy Trim and Jack, were the same Person? which was prov'd by such plain Tokens, and particularly by a Mole under the lest Pap, that there was no withstanding the Evidence; therefore the Worshipful Mr. Justice committed him, in order to his Tryal.

CAAP. II.

How Jack's Friends came to visit him in Prison, and what Advice they gave him.

JACK hitherto had pass'd in the World for a poor, simple, well-meaning, half-witted, crack'd-brain'd Fellow, People were strangely surprized to find him in such a Roguery;

(11) t, one Roguery; that he should disguise himself Rife under a false Name, hire himself out for a ; tha Servant to an old Gentlewoman, only for an ten i Opportunity to poison her. They said, That drink t was more Generous to profess open Enmity, e was han, under a profound Dissimulation, to be ne of guilty of fuch a feandalous Breach of Trust, and of the facred Rights of Hospitality. In short, is Dethe Action was univerfally Condemn'd by his alibi; best Friends; they told him in plain Terms, Que-That this was come as a Judgment upon him, and for his loofe Life, his Gluttony, Drunkenness & was Avarice, laying aside his Father's Will in an rticuold mouldy Trunk, and turning Stock-Jobber, that News-Monger, and Busie-Body, meddling herewith other Peoples Affairs, shaking off his old itted ferious Friends, and keeping Company with Buffoons and Pick-pockets, "his Father's fworn Enemies; That he had best throw himself upon the Mercy of the Court, Repent, and change his Manners. To fay Truth, Jack heard these Discourses with some Compunction; however he refolv'd to try what his new Acquaintance would do for him: They fent Habakkuk Slyrison, boots, who deliver'd him the following Message, as the peremptory Commands of his trufty > Habakkuk. Dear Jack, I am forry for thy Misfortune: Matters have not been carried on with due Secrecy; however, we must make the orld half-

Companions.

were

h a ery; the best of a bad Bargain: Thou art in the utmost Jeopardy, that's certain; Hang, Draw and Quarter, are the gentless things they talk of. However, thy faithful Friends, ever watchful for thy Security, bid me tell thee, That they have one infallible Expedient lest to save thy Life: Thou must know, we have got into some Understanding with the Enemy, by the Means of Don Diego Dismallo; he assures us there is no Mercy for thee, and that there is one only one way lest to Escape; it is indeed somewhat out of the common Road, however, be assured, it is the Result of most mature Deliberation.

Jack. Prithee tell me quickly, for my Heart is funk down into the very Bottom of my Belly.

Hab. It is the unanimous Opinion of your Friends, that you make as if you hang'd your felf; that they will give it out that you are quite dead, and convey your Body out of Prifon in a Beir; and that John Bull, being busied with his Law-Suit, will not enquire further into the Matter.

Juck. How d'ye mean, make as if I had hang'd my felf?

Hab. Nay, you must really hang your self up in a true genuine Rope, that there may appear no Trick in it, and leave the rest to your Friends.

Jack.

(13)

Jack. Truly this is a Matter of some Concern; and my Friends, I hope, won't take it ill, it I enquire a little into the Means by which they intend to deliver me: A Rope, and a Noose are no jesting Matters!

Hab. Why so mistrustful? hast thou ever found us false to thee? I tell thee, there is one ready to cut thee down.

Jack. May I presume to ask who it is that is intrusted with that important Office?

Hab. Is there no end of thy How's and thy Why's? that's a Secret.

Jack. A Secret, perhaps, that I may be fafely trusted with, for I am not like to tell it again. I tell you plainly, it is no strange thing for a Man, before he hangs himself up, to enquire who is to cut him down.

Hab. Thou suspicious Creature! if thou must needs know it, I tell thee it is Sir Roger; he has been in Tears ever since thy Missortune. Don Diego and we have laid it so, that he is to be in the next Room, and before the Rope is well about thy Neck, rest satisfied, he will break in, and cut thee down: Fear not, old Boy; we'll do't, I'll warrant; thee.

Jack. So I must hang my self up, upon hopes that Sir Roger will cut me down, and all this upon the Credit of Don Diego: a fine Stratagem indeed to save my Life, that depends fack.

ie ut-

Draw

talk

That

fave

into y the

es us

ere is deed owe-

ma-

leart elly.

vour

your

are

Pri-

ther

had felf

ap-

our

pends upon Hanging, Don Diego, and Sir

Roger!

Hab. I tell thee there is a Mystery in all this, my Friend, a piece of profound Policy; if thou knew what good this will do to the Common Cause, thy Heart would leap for Joy: I'm fure thou would not delay the Experiment one Moment.

Fack. This is to the Tune of All for the bet-What's your Cause to me, when I am hang'd?

Hab. Refractory Mortal! If thou wilt not trust thy Friends, take what follows; know affuredly, before next full Moon, that thou wilt be hung up in Chains, or thy Quarters perching upon the most conspicuous Places of the Kingdom. Nay, I don't believe they will be contented with Hanging, they talk of Empaling, or breaking on the Wheel; and thou chusest that, before a gentle suspending of thy felf, for one Minute. Hanging is not so painful a thing as thou imagines. I have spoke with feveral that have undergone it, they all agree it is no manner of Uneafiness; be fure thou take good notice of the Symptoms, the Relation will be curious; it is but a Kick or two with thy Heels, and a wry Mouth or so: Sir Roger will be with thee in the Twinkling of an Eye. trat gem indeed to fave my Life, the

(15)

Jack. But what if Sir Roger Should not come? will my Friends bethere to Succour me?

Hab. Doubt it not; I will provide every thing against to Morrow Morning, do thou keep thy own Secret, fay nothing: I tell thee, it is absolutely necessary for the common Good, that thou shouldst go through this Operation.

CHAP. III.

How Jack hang'd himself up by the Perswasion of his Friends, who broke their Word, and left his Neck in the Noofe.

TACK was a profess'd Enemy to Implicit J Fach, and yet I dare fay, it was never more strongly exerted, nor more basely abused than upon this Occasion. He was now, with his old Friends, in the State of a poor disbanded Officer after a Peace; or rather a wounded Soldier after a Battle; like an old Favourite of a cunning Minister after the Jobb is over; or a decay'd Beauty to a cloy'd Lover in quest of new Game; or like an hundred fuch things that one fees every Day. There were new Intrigues, new Views, new Projects on foot; Jack's Life was the Purchase of Diego's Friendthip, much good may it do them. The Interest

Sir

n all licy; the for Ex-

betam

not won hou ters aces

hey k of hou thy ainoke all

fure the

kor fo:

ing

fack

(16)

Pr

F

E

· V

BC

serest of Hocus and Sir William Crawly, which was now more at Heart, made this Operation upon poor Jack absolutely necessary. You may easily guess that his Rest that Night was may easily guess that his Rest that Night was hout small, and much disturbed; however the remaining Part of his Time he did not employ fas his Custom was formerly) in Prayer, Me ditation, or singing a double Verse of a Psalm, but amused himself with disposing of his Bankstock; many a Doubt, many a Qualm, overspread his clouded Imagination. 'Must I then (quoth he) hang up my own personal, who hands! Durus Sermo! What if I should be cut the down as my Briends, tell me? There is remaining Part of his Time he did not employ down, as my Friends tell me? There is in fomething Infamous in the very Attempt; ne the World will conclude I had a guilty Confcience. It is impossible that good Man, Sir but Roger: can have fo much pity upon an unfor-He tunate Scoundrel, that has perfecuted him fo bef many Years? No, it cannot be: I don't love ii Favours that pass through Don Diego's Hands On the other Side, my Blood chills about my Heart, at the thought of these Rogues, with their bloody Hands grabling in my Guts, and pulling out my very Entrails: Hang it, for once I'll trust my Friends? So Jack resolv'd but he had done more wifely, to have put himself upon the Tryal of his Country, made bea his Defence in Form; many Things happen ha

(17) nich between the Cup and the Lip, Witnesses

ion

Cou

rich

and for

put ade

pea

be

night have been brib'd, Juries manag'd, or Profecution stop'd. But so it was, Juck for was his time had a sufficient Stock of Implicit the Paith, which led him to his Ruin, as the Seloy quel of the Story shews: And now the fatal Me Day was come, in which he was to try this lm, panging Experiment. His Friends did not hanging Experiment. His Friends did not nk. ail him at the appointed Hour, to see it put in practice. Habakkuk brought him a smooth, to strong, tough Rope, made of many a ply of nal, wholesome Scandinavian Hemp, compactly wisted together, with a Noose that slip'd as cut glib as a Bird-Catcher's Gin. Jack shrunk is ind grew pale at first sight of it, he handled it, pt; measur'd it, stretch'd it, fix'd it against the on-fron-Bar of the Window to try its Strength, Sir but no Familiarity could reconcile him to it. for-He found Fault with the Length, the Thickof fo ness, and the Twist, nay, the very Colour ove lid not please him, 'Will nothing less than nds. Hanging serve, (quoth Jack)? Won't my my Enemies take Bail for my good Behaviour? Will they accept of a Fine, or be fatiffied with the Pillory and Imprisonment, a good round Whipping, or Burning in the Cheek?

Habakkuk. Nothing but your Blood will apv'd ease their Rage; make hast, else hall be discover'd: There's nothing like fur-

(18) furprising the Rogues. How they will be disappointed, when they hear that thou has prevented their Revenge, and hang'd thin own felf? Jack. That's true; but what if I should de in Effigies? Is there never an old Pope, of Pretender, to hang up in my stead? we ar not fo unlike, but it may pass. Hab. That can never be put upon Sir Ro Jack. Are you fure he is in the next Room Have you provided a very sharp Knife, in cal of the worst?

Hab. Dost take me for a common Lyar Be fatisfy'd, no Damage can happen to you Pe Person, your Friends will take Care det that.

Neck strangely? besides, I don't like this run ning Knot, it holds too tight, I may be stifled all of a fudden.

Hab. Thou hast so many If's and And's co prithee dispatch; it might have been over be fore this time.

Jack. But, now I think on't, I would fain he fettle some affairs, for fear of the worst: Have a little Patience.

Hab. There's no having Patience, thou are fach a faintling filly Creature.

-1111

Fack

Paj

tc

n

W

19) Jack. O thou most detestable, abominable, haf affive Obedience! did I ever imagine I should thin ecome thy Votary, in so pregnant an Instance; ow will my Brother Martin laugh at this tory, to see himself outdone in his own Cale, 0 ing? He has taken the Doctrine, and left me e an he Practice. No sooner had he utter'd these Words, but like a Man of true Courage, he y'd the fatal Cord to the Beam, fitted the Noofe, nd mounted upon the Bottom of a Tub, the cm cal niide of which he had often Grac'd in his properous Days. This Footstool Habakkuk kick'd yar way, and left poor Jack swinging, like the you Pendulum of Paul's Clock. The fatal Noofe, erform'd its Office, and with most strict Ligaure, squeez'd the Blood into his Face, 'till in s m flum'd a Purple Dye : While the poor Man run eav'd from the very Bottom of his Belly for tifle Breath, Habakkuk walk'd with great Delibeation into both the upper & lower Room, to nd's equaint his Friends, who receiv'd the News er be with great Temper, and with Geers and Scoffs oftead of Pity, Jack has hang'd him elf (quoth fair hey!) let us go and fee how the poor Rogue Hav wings. Then they call'd Sir Roger. Sir Roer (quoth Habakkuk) Jack has hang'd himself, u ar nake haste and cut him down. Sir Roger urn'd first one Ear and then t'other, not unserstanding what he said. Jack Hub.

(20)

Hab. I tell you Jack has hang'd himself up. Sir Roger. Who's hang'd?

GWHGi

Hab. Jack.

Sir Roger. I thought this had not been hanging Day.

Hab. But the poor Fellow has hang'd him Ja

felf.

Sir Roger. Then let him hang. I don't to wonder at it, the Fellow has been mad these St Twenty Years. With this he slunk away.

Then Jack's Friends began to hunch and hi punch one another, Why don't you go and cut the poor Fellow down? Why don't you? and why don't you? Not I (quoth one,) not I (quoth another,) not I (quoth a third,) he may hang 'till Doomsday before I relieve him.

Nay it is credibly reported, that they were so The far from succouring their poor Friend, in this his dismal Circumstance, that PTSCHIRN. SOOKER, and several of his Companions, went in a pull'd him by the Legs, and thump'd him on the Breast. Then they began to rail at 70 him for the very thing which they had both advis'd and justify'd before, viz. his getting in in to the old Gentlewoman's Family, and putting old on her Livery. The Keeper, who perform'd Re the last Office, coming up, found Jack swinging, with no Life in him; he took down the Body gently and laid it on a Bulk, and for brought out the Rope to the Company. Thu, th Gentlemen up. Gentlemen, is the Rope that hang'd Jack; What must be done with it? Upon which hey order'd it to be laid among the Curioang fities of Gresham College, and it was called Jack's Rope to this very Day. However him. Fack afterall had some small Tokens of Life in him, but lies at this Time past Hopes of a on't total Recovery, with his Head hanging on one hese Shoulder without Speech or Motion. Coroners Inquest supposing him dead, brought and him in non compos.

(21)

CHAP. IV.

ligo. You reem so receive me cold

l cut

and ot I he

RN.

him, e so The Conference between Don Diego Dismallo, and John Bull. this went During the Time of the foregoing Tran-np'd Diego was entertaining il at John Bull.

both D. Diego. I hope, Sir, this Day's Proceedg in ing will convince you of the Sincerity of your ting old Friend Diego, and the Treachery of Sir m'd Roger.

ing. J. Bull. What's the Matter now?

The D. Diego. You have been endeavouring, and for several Years to have Justice done upon This that Rogue Jack; but what through the Remen miss7. Bull. What then?

D. Diego. Consider then, who is your best Friend, he that would have brought him to condign Punishment, or he that has sav'd him. By my Perswasion, Jack had hang d himself, if Sir Roger had not cut him down.

J. Bull. Who told you that Sir Roger has done fo?

D. Diego. You seem to receive me coldly; methinks my Services deserve a better Return.

J. Bull. Since you value your felf upon Hanging this poor Scoundrel, I tell you, when I have any more Hanging-work, I'll fend for thee; I have some betrer Employment for Sir Roger: In the mean Time, I desire the poor Fellow may be look'd after. When he first came out of the North-Country into my Family, under the pretended Name of Timothy Trim, the Fellow feem'd to mind his Loom and his Spinning Wheel, till some Body turn'd his Head, then he grew fo pragmatical, that he took upon him the Government of my whole Family: I could never order any thing, within or without Doors, but he must be alwife giving his Counfel, forfooth: Nevertheless, tell him, I will forgive what is palt; and k'd and if he would mind his Business for the Futo ture, and not meddle out of his own Sphere, he will find that John Bull is not of a cruel Disposition.

(23)

D. Diego. Yet all your skilful Physicians fay, that nothing can recover your Mother but a Piece of Jack's Liver boild in her best

Soup.

n to

im,

felf,

has

lly;

n he

oom. rn'd that my

ing, t be veralt; and

J. Bull. Those are Quacks: My Mother abhors fuch Cabinal's Food; she is in perfect Health at present: I would have given many a good Pound to have had her so well some Time ago. There are indeed, Two or three Retroublesome old Nurses, that because they believe I am tender hearted, will never pon let me have a quiet Nights Rest, with knockhen ing me up: Oh, Sir, your Mother is taken fend' extremely ill! she is fallen into a fainting Fit! t for he has a great Emptiness, and wants Sustethe nance! This is only to recommend themselves, for these great Care. John Bull, as my simple as he is, understands a little of a imo-Pulle.

FINIS.

if he would mind his Business for the Fuand not meddle out of his own Sphere, willing that John I ill is not of a cruck ...noinflood Digos Ket all vove skilful Physicians that nothing can recover your Mother Piece of Gart's Liver boild in her J. Rell. Thole are Quacks: My Mother mors fuch Cabinal's Food; the is in perfect esith at prefent: I would have given many good Pound to have hed her to well tome ime ago. There are indeed, Two or three cublesome old 1 am ten cold will hever they chave requiet with knockthey up: Oh, Sir, they make is taken ktremely ill! the is fallen into a fainting Fit! e has a great Emptincis, and wants Softe-nee! This is only to recommend themlees, for thefr great Care. John Rull, as Silie.

mple as he is understands a little of a FIWIS